pink ribbons of light
streamers dance across the sky tangled in the trees

March
longer days in spring
little flowers in the grass
first pollinators

decay
breakdown of tissue things not working as they should flesh growing older

fever
teeth chattering cold
layer of sweat over skin
head on fire

cosmic debris
a ring of of garbage
orbiting around the earth
cluttering the sky

forgotten
hidden memory
left locked deep inside my brain
best not remembered
